“Method” techniques

8 Weekly, 2-hour Sessions
(space is limited)
Thursdays 7-9PM

Tuition: $300, Call 704 849-2025
for start date and registration

Instructor: Linda Ann Watt
Member SAG-AFTRA, AEA
Owner, Corlin Productions

345 North College Street (corner 7th), 3rd Fl. Studio A, Charlotte

This 8-session class meets weekly. Learn “Method” acting technique with sense memory and relaxation exercises, voice and improvisation with in-depth scene study using substitution, intent, personalization, creative hiding and physical action. Strasberg, Meisner, Adler and Katselas teachings are explored. One class is devoted to “on camera” cold reading, “the business of acting” and the audition process.

Highly regarded acting instructor, Linda Ann Watt, is a member of SAG-AFTRA and AEA, owner of Corlin Productions, a SAG-AFTRA signatory production company in L.A. and Charlotte, 2015 Tony Award Nominee for Theatre Education and past board member of Women in Film in L.A. Watt produces film, television and commercials. She produced the educational video, “The Method based on Stanislavski and Strasberg” with Martin Landau, Cloris Leachman and Shelley Winters (written by Lorrrie Hull, the only teaching tool Strasberg approved).

Space limited. Please send or Email tear-off sheet, or call 704 849-2025 to enroll.
